

RIGHT TO LEARN BREAKING NEWS

$5 billion will be slashed from your education

In order to learn, don't you need quality teachers, smaller classes, and updated books and computers? The 2008-09 state budget proposes cutting nearly $5 billion from California schools, making each of those things a lot harder to come by.

Stand up for your Right To Learn!

Are you ready to see 107,000 teachers fired?
Or lose $24,000 that could have gone towards new books and computers for your classroom?
Can you imagine squeezing another another 15 students and desks next to you?

How will your voice be heard in the fight for education?

Adults like parents, teachers, school board members, school employees and administrators are already taking a stand against these budget cuts, but no one has yet heard from students! This is your chance to speak up, be heard, and make a difference for yourself, your friends, and young people throughout California.

Rally on Friday, April 18 for a better solution to California's budget crisis

Join the Right To Learn campaign and thousands of young people throughout the state to demand better – organize an action at your school to protest these cuts. Make t-shirts, posters, signs or armbands and be heard!
